Part 1: What comes to your mind, when you think about food?

1a) Create a mindmap. Find at least 3 main categories. For each category find at least 2 points.

I don't like....

What is your favourite food?

I like

1b) Make a list of what you like and what you don't like.
Write the list into your folder and find at least 6 things you like and 6 things you don't like.
Then ask your partner.

Like	Dislike / Don't like
- _____	- _____

What about you?

What food do you like?

What kind of food don't you like?

1c) Have you ever ...?

Ask your classmates these questions and answer them.

Yes, I have.

Have you ever

nibbled had chow

Salt and Vinegar crisps?
fizzy lemonade?
a take-away meal?
black pudding?
beaked beans?
scrambled eggs?
Irish stew?

Yes, it was disgusting.

Yes, it was delicious.

No, I haven't.

1d) Write 4 sentences about you and your classmates into your folder.

Example:

I have already eaten scrambled eggs.

Emily has never nibbled Salt and Vinegar Crisps.

Part 2: Eating habits around the world

The British eat peas by pressing them onto the back of a fork with a knife.

wiseGEEK

They also use this method to eat small pieces of meat and potatoes

The native Americans from the north-west sometimes grill fish. They make a frame around the fresh fish and hang it over a fire. It's a very tasty way to cook fish.

A traditional Irish breakfast is a fried meal consisting of fried potato slices, tomatoes, bacon, eggs, sausages, and black and white pudding.

St. Louis (Missouri - USA) is famous for the hamburger. Originally the hamburger got its name from the German city Hamburg, which was famous for its steak. German immigrants took it to the USA. In 1904 hamburger steaks were served on buns at the St. Louis World's Fair for the first time. Hamburger on buns were easy to eat, really convenient and tasted good. So hamburgers on buns became the usual way of eating hamburgers.

- 2a) Read the text and mark 5 words that you don't understand, are new for you and/or find interesting.
- 2b) Look them up in the dictionary and write them down!
- 2c) Imagine you want to tell a German friend about the eating habits. Answer these questions in German.
Write the answers in your folder.
