Black music

For 400 years, since the first black slaves arrived in America in 1619, black music has changed the look¹ and sound of music in the US. From spirituals to contemporary² R&B, here are ten important black music styles.

1 SPIRITUALS The earliest black songs in the US were the work songs and spirituals that the slaves sang in the fields. Spirituals were religious songs that gave hope of a better future to the slaves. One very famous spiritual is 'Swing low, sweet chariot'³. Gospel music, which started in the African American churches in the early 1900s, comes from the spirituals sung by southern slaves.

Slaves in the fields

2 BLUES Slavery was abolished⁴ in 1865. As blacks moved north to the towns, a new type of black music was born – the blues. Robert Johnson was one of the most famous blues musicians⁵, and there were many more great blues singers, like Ma Rainey and Bessie Smith.

4 R&B Rhythm and blues was a music style that started in the 1930s and 1940s. It was a mix of jazz, gospel and blues music. Ruth Brown, Bo Diddley and Fats Domino were popular R&B artists at that time.

5 ROCK 'N' ROLL In the 1950s, the first rock 'n' roll songs were played by black artists. 'Tutti Frutti' by Little Richard and 'Johnny B. Goode' by Chuck Berry were two of the first rock 'n' roll songs.

Aretha Franklin

6 SOUL Soul came from R&B and gospel. It was started in the late 1950s by black artists like Sam Cooke, Ray Charles and James Brown. In the 1960s one of the most popular soul stars was Aretha Franklin. People call her 'The Queen of Soul'.

Kool and the Gang

7 DISCO In the 1970s, black disco stars, like B.T. Express, Kool and the Gang, Sister Sledge and Donna Summer, were popular.

8 RAP AND HIP HOP In 1979, The Sugar Hill Gang produced the first rap hit, 'Rapper's Delight'. This was the start of a new sound in the music world.

Alicia Keys

9 NEO SOUL In the late 1990s there was a new mix of sounds which people called neo soul. It was made up of hip hop, reggae, jazz, soul and Latin music. Lauryn Hill, Erykah Badu and Alicia Keys are famous neo soul artists of the 1990s and 2000s.

How do we make the Present Perfect Tense?

subject	+	auxiliary have conjugated in Present Simple have, has	+	main verb past participle
----------------	----------	---	----------	--

- The auxiliary verb (have) is conjugated in the Present Simple: have, has
- The main verb is invariable in past participle form: -ed (or irregular)
- For negative sentences we insert NOT between the auxiliary verb and the main verb.
- For question sentences, we exchange the subject and the auxiliary verb.
